A touch screen is only as powerful as the system behind it

The choice is simple. Crestron makes it easy.

The iPad is the hottest touch screen today, but it's the engine behind the scenes that drives the enterprise. Other companies have an app, but only Crestron is a proven, open platform that delivers complete integrated control. So, why settle for anything less than Crestron – the world's most powerful and scalable AV control and building management system. Whether you prefer Apple®, Android™, Windows® – or use a combination of all three – there's only one choice for total control.
