

hope you like your reflection

Beginning December 31, 2010 that's all you'll see on TV

By the end of the year component outputs will only support standard definition signals, and by 2013 component outputs and analog video will be gone forever. Crestron DigitalMedia™ manages, distributes and controls all analog and uncompressed 1080p signals, including HDMI/DVI, DisplayPort, Ethernet and long distance over just one copper wire or fiber. DM is the only complete source-to-display solution for the digital age.

crestron.com/digitalmedia